

2018 BANFF Diversity of Voices Initiative

Submission Release for Entry into the BANFF Diversity of Voices Initiative

To enter a project into the BANFF Diversity of Voices Initiative, you or your company (referred to going forward as “you” or “your”) must be the sole owner of the intellectual property and have possession of the full legal rights to the project, free from any rights from any third party, including another broadcast or cable network, SVoD platform or distributor, and you acknowledge that you have freely submitted your project to the BANFF Diversity of Voices Initiative for consideration by Brunico Communications Ltd (“BANFF”) and the networks and companies that may be participating in the mentorship and Pitch Program (the “Participating Networks”).

You accept that your project will be reviewed and discussed amongst employees of BANFF and employees of the Participating Networks selected by you in your Summit Showdown application. This review and discussion will determine your project’s eligibility to participate in the BANFF Diversity of Voices Pitch Program.

You understand that the Participating Networks may have, at any time, explored or created materials containing programs and ideas that are similar to the theme, plot, idea or format of your submitted project, and that by submitting your project to the BANFF Diversity of Voices Initiative, you relinquish any claim to the ideas, in full or in part, as it relates to any current or future programs on the Participating Networks. You will not be entitled to any legal action or compensation from BANFF, nor the Participating Networks, for the use of such materials.

Submission of your project to the BANFF Diversity of Voices Initiative does not imply a contractual agreement between you, BANFF, nor the Participating Networks. BANFF and the Participating Networks shall not be under any obligation to you with respect to your project except as may later be set forth in a fully executed written agreement between you and one of the Participating Networks.

If selected to pitch at the BANFF Diversity of Voices Pitch Program, you agree to present your project during in-person pitch sessions at the 2018 Banff World Media Festival during timed presentation. Any presentation of footage or handing out of materials must fall within your allotted pitch time.

On the Application Form please acknowledge your agreement with these terms and conditions and submit your project to the BANFF Diversity of Voices Initiative. Submissions without an explicit acknowledgement of this release form will not be considered.
